

Monkey and Hyena

African Storybook

Salim Kasamba

English

Monkey and Hyena
had an argument.

They went to a judge.

The judge thought,
"Monkey will eat
my maize.
Hyena will eat my cattle!"

The judge told Monkey and Hyena
to ask the village elders.

The elders also feared to pass judgement on Monkey or Hyena.

The elders told Monkey and Hyena, "The case is very difficult."

They told Monkey and Hyena to ask the poor woman.

The poor woman
agreed to judge their case.

She said to Hyena,
“You are respected,
big and a hero.”

Hyena said, "You are right. I will end this disagreement."

"Monkey, you are too clever to quarrel," she said.

He agreed!

She said, "You both agreed to stop quarrelling. Forgive each other."

The poor woman solved the problem.

Monkey and Hyena

Author - Mulualem Daba

Adaptation - African Storybook and Dorcas Wepukhulu

Illustration - Salim Kasamba

Language - English

Level - First words

© African Storybook Initiative 2017

Creative Commons: Attribution 4.0

Source www.africanstorybook.org